YONKERS.

A freak burglar was captured by the Yonkers police at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Shortly before that hour the telephone in Police Headquarters gave a loud, continuous ring, and Sergeant McLaughiln re-ceived this message: "Hello! Is this the police station? Say, there's a fellow up here all dressed up in wimmen's clothes. He's a burglar. I've got him;

The message came in an excited manner from Frederick Foster, the gardener at Middlebrook, the country house of David Sieher, No. 1,646 North Broadway. Sergeant McLaughlin sent Detectives Carroll and Cooley out in the patrol wagon, as the place is a mile from the centre of the city. They found Foster in charge of what they "sized up" as one of the "new men," whom he had discovered leaving Mr. Sicher's home at about 6 o'clock. The burg ar walked with crutches, and on his back he had a large bundle of

At Police Headquarters the burglar said he was James McClaskey, thirty years old. On being searched officers found that McClaskey's apparent weight was made up of miscellaneous articles of women's apparel. He were underneath his clothing three pairs of corsets, two corset waists, a fancy robe, one balloon sleeve pink waist, one black night robe, one bailoon sieeve pink waist, one black merino skirt, two white vests, one plush red and white wrapper, a pair of black hose and a woman's breakfast kown, and stuffed in his bosom was a feather fan and a piece of duche-see lace.

The burglar is supposed to be one of the gang which has committed numerous burglaries throughout has committed numerous burglaries of the bundle which he carried more than a thousand miscellaneous articles were found, including pieces of clothing, shoes, hats, caps, pipes, pocketbooks, lew-ciry and silverware. One gold and one silver watch, of grant with a sum of money, were also found in a head satchel which he carried. The police discovered that McClaskey also entered the unoccupied houses of L. G. Bloomingdale, at No. 11 East Sixty-seventings. No. 21 St. Nev-York, and Joseph B. Bloomingdale, No. 21 East Sixty-third-st., of Bloomingdale Brothers. In these houses the burglar secured nothing of value, as these houses the burglar secured nothing of value, as these houses the burglar secured nothing of value, as these houses the burglar secured nothing of value, as these houses the burglar secured nothing of value, as these houses the found of the factor of the pane of glass, after which he removed the catch. He rummaged through all the rooms in the house, but was evidently disappointed in not securing more valuable booty. Closets and bureau drawers were ransacked, and a bundle was left to be taken on a second visit. The police believe that McClaskey is feigning to be a crippic, and he refuses to give any account of himself.

The demonstration in Port Chester on Saturday night in honor of William L. Ward was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in the county. The parade, which was the principal affair of the evening, was a great success. It was reviewed by many of the prominent Republicans of the county. In the line of vehicles there was one broken down affair, which was to represent the opposition made to Mr. Ward at the polls. At the end of the parade the visitors, numbering nearly 4,000, were guesta at a supper served by the Republican Club. A number of specches were made—one by Mr. Ward, in which he thanked his listeners and all others who had taken an interest in his behalf, and reaffirmed his allegiance to the cause of home rule in the Republican party. On this subject he said recently that he was not a seeker after office, but took up the present fight for principle alone. And this principle is whether the Republicans of Westchester County shall elect their own representatives, or whether they shall be elected for them by some power outside of the county. Tuesday's victory, Mr. Ward maintained, was a triumph for the people of Westchester County and a warping for the county and a warping for the county and a warping for the proper of Westchester County and a warping for the county and a warping for the man and the people of Westchester County and a warping for the county and a warping them by some power outside of the county. #### ELMSFORD.

Some one played a toke on John Liber, of Elmsford, last week which promises to have a serious outcome. Liber has lived here almost all his life. His existence has been a precarious one, gained by doing odd jobs when he happened to find them. On Tuesa letter. This was a remarkable occurrence, as the old man can neither read nor write. He had never received a letter before. The letter was postmarked in the local office, and read as follows:

"Tarrytown, N. Y., November 2, 1896.

"John Liber, Esq.
"Dear Sir: Enclosed please find a check for $5, a few of which I am sending out. Please make the best use of it for the party.

Liber was dazed. The check was a windfall to him. The only "James Burd" he knew of was James Bird, who is President of the village of Tarrytown and of the Tarrytown McKirley and Hobart Club. To several persons Liber expressed himself as grateful to Mr. Bird. After some trouble, Liber had the check cashed by Mrs. John Downey, who owns the Valley Stream Hotel, on the Tarrytown road. Mrs. Downey thought the name was all right, and did not notice the difference in spelling. She kept the check as few days, and then sent her son to Tarrytown to make some purchases and get the check cashed. The young man went to the store of Moses Yerks, in Main-st., and purchased a pair of shoes. Mr. Yerks knew Mrs. Downey and Mr. Bird, whose signature the check was supposed to bear, and gave & in change. On Saturday Mr. Yerks presented the check at the National Bank. It was refused by the teller as not being signed by any one who had an account in the bank.

Mr. Yerks then informed Mrs. Downey that he exfew of which I am sending out. Please make the best use of it for the party.

JAMES BURD. in the bank.

Mr. Terks then informed Mrs. Downey that he expected her to make good the amount of the check. Mrs. Downey when seen said she was undecided what to do. She believed the check was passed to her in good faith, and knew she would never be able to recover the money from Liber. Mr. Bird says he has no idea who the sender of the check was. He says some one probably played the yoke on Liber, and protected himself by signing a name sounding like his.

ered a sermon last night on the Eastern question. His discourse was in defence of the Turks and he argued that the Armenians only got what they deserved. He said in part:

The Eastern question has three elements—the Turks, Palestine and the Jew, Just now the Turk is in everybody's mouth. People cannot say things bad enough about him. He is looked upon as a field incarnate. As a soldier he is thought to be the embediment of beastly brutality, yet the Turkish soldiers have never blown their prisoners from the cannon's mouth as English soldiers have done. They have never been as flendish as Spanish soldiers at our very door in Cuba. He is denounced for nis religion and yet Mahometanism has never done what professed Christianity of middle ages has lone—turned men and women into worshippers of images. He is denounced as a citizen, and yet a drunken Turk is a rare sight. His government is represented as built up by robbery and fraud, and yet the whole civilized world has lately been at the feet of Li Hung Charg, a monimental pagan, a walking conundrum maker, whose wealth was notoriously gotten by bribery and corruption. Why should China be saluted for her corruption and the Turk held up to special scorn? The answer is that the Turks have been guilty of wicked outrages on the Armenians.

Many of these reported outrages have never occurred. Many have been exaggerated, and, as for those which have taken place, the Armenian was mainly responsible. He is a born conspirator. His is oily and obsequious, always plotting against the Turkish Government and azainst its religion. The Armenian headquarters are in Constantinopic. He write the conspirator, his is oily and obsequious, always plotting against the Turkish Government and azainst its religion. The Armenian headquarters are in Constantinopic have their way. They fired on the police and threw bombs wherever they had a chance.

They find the surface of the provise of th menians, he can rule at all, the beatrains as menians ought to be silenced and the Sultan helped to carry on his reform.

The Turkish Empire is necessary to the peace of Europe and Asia. Those who advise the dismemberment of Turkey now do not think very profoundly. But the Turk is there to-day by the will of God in order that the land of Palestine may keep its Sabbath and the Jews still remain in exile. The Turks would stay there till the decreed hour should come.

Palestine is the great arena, and the Turk to day is the key to the situation. Many of the Jews are already discussing the rebuilding of the Tenaple. The consummation will be the coming of Christ. The Turk will go, not because he is more wicked than other nations, but because he has served and Christ would come. Thus are prophesy and history found face to face in the Lisierin question, and he who looks through it would get the vision of the "Coming King."

TO HAVE A SERIES OF SUPPERS.

SECOND IN THE LINE OF ENTERTAINMENTS OF THE KATHERINE A. TINGLEY BROTHERHOOD CLUB.

The members of the Katherine A Tingley Brotherhood Club of the Theosophical Society had supper in the rooms of the club, in East Fourof the series to be given this winter. Last night there were fully 200 members and guests present. M. H. Phelps presided, and after the tables had been cleared the suffect of "Our Duties to Curselves" was discussed. Many members spoke upon the theme, and in the course of the evening the advantages of temperance, attention to personal cleanliness, parental care of children and social amenities were discussed by the various speakers. The Fourteenth-st, branch of the society is the offspring of the Women's Emergency Relief Association, which was organized in the winter of 1833-34 by Mrs. Tingley for the relief of the suffering that then prevailed in that district. In conjunction with this charitable work, Mrs. Tingley at that time conducted a school for the families whom she and her friends assisted, in which she taught them the elementary principles of theosophy. The main object of the club is to revive those classes of instruction, primarily for children and secondarily for their parents, and to provide various educational. of the series to be given this winter. Last nigh for their parents, and to provide a refullities.

At the suppers simple meals are provided, to which theketa are sold at a nondnal sum per plate, it being thought wise in matters of entertainment to encourage individual independence. As was the case last night, these suppers will be followed by discussions on various subjects, and will thereby give to the members the opportunity of a free exchange of views and opicions.

THE VISITING NEWSPAPER MEN. The newspaper men who came East from Chi-

the Republican National Committee, spent the day in sight-seeing yesterday. The dinner on Saturday evening was a most enjoyable affair and was heartily appreciated by all who attended. It partook much of the Clover Club style, and a great deal of good-natured badinage was indulged in, Mr Hanna made a happy little speech, complimenting "the boys," as he called them, upon their work, and they took a turn at complimenting him. Both he and Mr. Bliss were hauled over the coals for various alleged shortcomings, and likewise were nominated for almost every gift in the power of Major McKinley to bestow. It was decided in the end, inasmuch as Mr. Hanna had a little farm and knew how to raise turnips, that he should be Secretary of Agriculture. He replied:

"Well, boys, I have a farm out in Ohio where champagne and milk cost just the same."
There were no formal speeches, but every one had something to contribute. Bright and early yesterday morning the party were up, and in the afternoon a drive was taken to Grant's Tomb and through Central Park. In the evening the party enjoyed themselves in various ways, and at midnight took the train for Washington. MISS LIZZIE RAYMOND ACCUSES A PORTER OF LARCENY.

Miss Lizzie B. Raymond, the well-known vaude-ville actress, who lives at No. 209 East Fifty-seventh-st., was a complainant in Yorkville Court vesterday morning against Edward Watts, thirtynine years old, of No. 237 Seventh-ave., a colored Pullman-car porter, whom she charged with having robbed her of $120 while she was asleep in her berth yesterday morning, while en route from Boston to this city Watts waived examination and Magistrate Cor-nell held him for trial in $1,000 bail.

AN ACTOR WALKING IN HIS SLEEP. William Perkins, thirty-two years old, an actor, o No. 138 West Twenty-second-st., was found in Twenty-No. 128 West Twenty-second-st, was found in Iwenty-second-st, at an early hour yesterday morning walking in his sleep. He was clothed only in a nightshirt and a blanket. He was uninjured and was taken home. Policeman Hughes, of the West Thirtieth-st, station, was standing at Twenty-second-st, and Sixthave, when he saw Perkins walk rapidly down the street. His long halr was flowing in the strong night breeze, and he strode along without looking to the right or left. Four mer were following him. The policeman ran up to Perkins and, in spite of the four men, stopped him. The men said that Perkins was asleep and would go home if let alone.

The policeman spoke to Perkins, who stood with eyes wide open, but did not answer. Hughes sent to the New-York Hospital for an ambulance. Dr. Harrison soon reached the place and awoke Perkins with no effort. The man said that he had eaten a heavy dinner and that such a meal made him walk in his sleep. He said that the last time he was so afflicted was three years ago in Boston. He was taken to his home in the ambulance, having suffered no injury. HEBREW CONVERTS BAPTIZED.

The Rev. Jr. John Hall, paster of the Fifth Aveone Presbyterian Church, last evening baptized eleven Hebrew converts at the meeting-room of the American Mission to the Jews, at No. 424 Grand-st. Among the converts were a physician, Dr. Adolph Fein, and his family.

A BROOKLYN MAN'S ACCIDENTAL DEATH. North Anson, Me., Nov. &-Herman Hoops, of No. 127 Kent-ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., was accidentally shot by carelessly resting his arm over the muzzle shot by carelessly resting his arm over the muzzle of a shotgun, while riding in a buckboard near "Joe" Viles's camp, on Dead River, twelve miles from Samuel Parsons's. Dr. Ewing, of this place, was summoned, and arrived at Lege House about the same time as the wounded man. The latter's arm was immediately amputated. On account of the loss of blood and the inability to procure medical aid in season, Mr. Hoops died about two hours after the operation. He leaves a widow and two children.

of ten new directors of the Monteflore Home Couhundred-and-thirty-eighth-st, and the Boulevard, was held yesterday morning in the synagogue of the Home. Jacob H. Schiff, president of the Board, presided. The president's report showed that the Home had $55 patients in the year, and that a new medicating room for the medication of the clothing of new patients had been built at a great cost. The secretary their read the senior house surgeon's report, which showed a large increase over last year in the number of patients admitted and a decrease of the death rate. The following directors
